PROFILE

I am a Front-End Developer with experience in developing web and mobile applications, specialized in technologies such as React, React Native (Expo), TypeScript and Next.js, Redux. I have participated in various projects, collaborating with multidisciplinary teams to create innovative and functional solutions.

My professional experience has allowed me to consolidate and apply my technical skills daily in my role as a developer. Currently, I am perfecting my skills in front-end development and expanding my knowledge in back-end with the development of APIs, microservices, and related technologies.
